Presidential address: Light and communication	K. R. Ackerman	1
Visibility under night driving conditions. Part 3. Derivation of (ΔL,A) characteristics and factors in their application	B. L. Hills	11
A study of emotional reactions to light and colour in a school environment	K. T. Tikkanen	27
	Errata	114
Calculation of the radial tungsten transport in cylindrical gas filled incandescent lamps	F. R. H. Almer & J. de Ridder	31
National Illumination Committee of Great Britain: Annual Report		36
The function of windows in buildings	A. M. Ludlow	57
Vehicle headlights	J. S. Yerrell	69
Review of the psychological reaction to windows	Belinda L. Collins	80
Specifications of colour rendering properties of light sources for colour television	J. J. Opstelten & L. B. Beijer	89
Method of calculating the required luminances in tunnel entrances	W. Adrian	103
Measurement standards for retroreflective materials used on road signs	R. D. Lozano	107
Radiant heat from lights, and its effect on thermal comfort	D. A. McIntyre	121
Trotter-Paterson Memorial Lecture: Engineering?—Nature always did it first!	E. R. Laithwaite	129
Improvement of metal halide lamps by complex formation	R. Lorenz	136
Electrode fall and electric field measurements in high pressure sodium discharges	P. L. Denbigh & D. O. Wharmby	141
Effects of temperature on the properties of glass colour filters used in signalling equipment	N. J. Martin	146
Effect of atmospheric attenuation on exterior lighting design	F. W. Heard, F. H. S. Stone & B. W. Jewess	151
	Errata	224
High pressure sodium lamps to replace MBF lamps in existing installations	G. de Neve	157
Reflection classification of dry and wet road surfaces	E. Frederiksen & K. Sorensen	175
Use of detection of change of visual angle as a criterion for determining road lighting levels	A. J. Fisher & R. R. Hall	187
Illuminance, lamp type and performance on a colour discrimination task	P. R. Boyce	195
Calculation of utilization factors	A. R. Bean & R. I. Bell	200
New fluorescent lamps for interior lighting	L. E. Vrenken	211
Sun simulator at Copenhagen School of Architecture	E. Christensen	219

Research notes

Oxygen additions to tungsten-bromine lamps	D. H. Price	45
Sector disc visibility comparator	R. M. O'Donnell, S. H. Critchley & R. Chapman	113
Twin-rotating-disc visibility meter	A. W. Levy & J. Nelder	163
Instrument for direct measurement of mean cylindrical illuminance	P. E. Gooding, D. R. G. Hunt & A. H. Cockram	225
Contrast control by means of nematic liquid crystals	W. Dukek	229

Correspondence

Luminaire domain and illuminance ratios	P. A. Jay	47
	J. A. Lynes	162
Effect of atmospheric attenuation on exterior lighting design	J. M. Waldram	224
